You may not spend much time thinking about it, but how does government work in Lansdale Borough? Lansdale operates under a Council / Manager government model; this means that Council makes decisions on Borough policy and the Borough Manager is responsible for running the Borough according to established policy.

Borough Council

There are nine elected Council members representing the three wards within the Borough. Each Councilperson is elected to serve a four year term. Council members are charged with the creation of new legislation, adoption of ordinances, resolutions and motions along with the approval of the annual budget. The primary goal of each member is to serve the needs of the constituents from his / her ward and prepare Lansdale Borough for future growth and success.

Mayor

The Mayor is elected by Borough residents of all three wards. The Mayor oversees the Police Department as stipulated by Pennsylvania Law. The Mayor also has the ability to cast a tie-breaking vote if Council reaches a tie on adoption of any legislation; this is the only time that the Mayor casts a vote.
